Miss Alabama U.S. Teen Pageant To Be Held

Applications are now being accepted from girls 13 through 19 for the Miss Alabama U.S. Teen pageant. The Alabama winner will receive $200 in cash, one-year college scholarship, all-expense-paid trip to the national pageant, including airfare, watch, diamond pendant, color portrait, crown, banner, trophy and a host of gifts and prizes.

In addition to the state title, awards will be given in leadership, friendship and photographic categories.

The Alabama pageant will be held at the Alabama Conference Center in Birmingham. Judging is based on poise, personality, school and community involvement.

Over $100,000 in cash and tuition scholarships will be offered. The national winner, Miss U.S. Teen, will receive a $2,500 cash scholarship, a four-year college scholarship, one-year Caribbean vacation, watch, diamond pendant, perfume, numerous products and gifts, complete modeling portfolio, TV and personal appearances, a crown, banner, trophy and a year of travel and excitement.

The national pageant will be video-taped for television. For further information, contact Carol Clement, National Director, U.S. Teen, P.O. Box 1229, Auburn, AL 36830, or call 205-745-6875.

On the PSAT/NMSQT, the 30 students taking the test at Elba High School on October 22, 1985, at 8 a.m., were the first in the nation to take the SAT - the pre-requisite for many college-bound students, said Wavon Sharpless of the school guidance staff.

Since 1959, about 30 million high school students have taken the test, which tests verbal and mathematical abilities.

This year the PSAT/NMSQT will be offered Saturday, October 19, or Tuesday, October 22, at almost 20,000 high schools nationwide.

Through this test, students are selected for the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Program, which enables talented students to compete for scholarships, and Hispanic students are considered for the National Hispanic Scholar Award Program.

BRINSTORMS

We have been remiss in not explaining just why city council members Jack Prescott and Cleo Hawkins have missed a couple of council meetings. Jack is in the hospital in Birmingham, having undergone additional bypass surgery. He came home a few days ago but had to go back because he wasn't jumping the fences like doctors thought he would. Cleo Hawkins is still with us and she says he is doing well. He is in the hospital in Montgomery and we don't know what good reports on Mr. Hawkins. Family members are concerned because he doesn't seem to be getting any better. We can't give any estimate at this writing on when either of them will be back to the meetings, or even get home, but will try to keep you posted.

The idea of a lottery in Alabama keeps surfacing every time someone points out the shortage of tax money to do most anything. This time it is the educational trust fund and the needs of state schools, especially those in rural counties. With the money going strictly to education, the people voting on it with Gov. Wallace's blessings, we see the measure passing. It will never make a lot of folks rich, but the dream of being rich will make it popular. As long as people only put in a little as "recreant," we feel no objection. The measure is not a lottery, it is a tax from the mouths of children, who buy lottery tickets, we understand why opponents want it outlawed. However, most of this type people would spend the money on whiskey or some illegal gambling operation. We will probably vote for the measure if it is designed carefully.

We were reading a column on things of the past and stumbled on the saying, "mighty right". Now you are MIGHTY RIGHT we remember that statement, and it makes a lot more sense than "right on" or "yea man". It is funny that not only has it fallen into disuse, but had even disappeared from the thoughts until stumbling upon it in that article. It gave this country boy a thrill to recall something from the darkest parts of our memory.

Football fans will probably agree with Auburn University coach when he said Auburn didn't deserve to be ranked #1 football team in the country. This is what we were thinking when we saw the news. The one we used in the first of the second quadrant, thought it was a missprint when the score 14-0 Tennessee flashed on the screen. However, that was just a sample of things to come. We don't know just why it is that a seemingly good football team can sometimes look like they are playing sandlot ball - but it happens. That is why we wouldn't be money that any big college team could beat the smallest high school in the South on any given Saturday. That doesn't mean we would bet you a cent that our favorite team would win . . . or lose. We would buy you the drinks anyway, so it would just add a little sparkle to the day if one or the other HAD to play off.

The invasion of lovebugs that has hit south Georgia, Florida and the lower part of Alabama isn't as bad as it has been in years past. The worst infestation we have seen is in Florida, around the beach areas and northward. We can see car covered with the bugs, and predictably is coming from several miles south. The brightest side of this matter is that the cooler weather will cause them to vanish almost as quickly as they appeared.

National Shrimp Festival Scheduled

At Gulf Shores

The 14th Annual National Shrimp Festival, October 11-13 in Gulf Shores, will put its emphasis on good food and fun.

A seafood cooking contest is set for 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. October 13 at Gulf State Park Resort. A seafood boardwalk will be available each day on the public beach area.

Entertainment provided by Danny and the Primes, the U.S. Air Force Reserve Band, gospel music groups, a Dixieland band and the Queen City Cloggers. Most events are scheduled for the public beach area, but some will be held in the city.

The National Shrimp Festival Parade is set for October 12 at 10 a.m. on Hwy 59 South. Many festival activities are planned for children. For more information, contact Joe

BRAINSTORMS

By Ferrin Cox, Publisher

We have been entries in not explaining just why city council members Jack Prentiss and Cleo Hawkins have missed a couple of council meetings. Jack is in the hospital in Birmingham, having undergone additional bypass surgery. He came home a few days ago but had to go back because he wasn't jumping the fences like doctors thought he should. We talked to his wife this week and she says he is doing better. Cleo is in the hospital in Montgomery and we don't have such good reports on Mr. Hawkins. Members of the council are concerned because he doesn't seem to be getting any better. We can't give any estimate at this writing on when either of them will be back to the meetings, or even get home, but will try to keep you posted.

The idea of a lottery in Elba keeps surfacing every time someone points out the shortage of tax money and the need of state schools, especially those in rural counties. With no money going strictly to education, the people voting on it with Gov. Wallace's blessings, we see the measure passing. It will never make a lot of folks rich, but the dream of being rich will make it popular. As long as people only put in a little as "recreation", we find no reason to fault the measure. However, when people start taking food from the pockets of children to buy lottery tickets, we understand why opponents want it out. We can't imagine that type people would spend the money for whiskey or some illegal gambling operation. We will probably vote for the measure if it is designed properly.

We were reading a column on things of the past and stumbled on the saying, "mighty right". Now you are MIGHTY RIGHT we remember that statement, and it makes a lot more sense than "right on" or "ya man". It is funny that not only has it fallen into disuse, but it had even disappeared from our thoughts until stumbling upon it in that article. It gave that country boy a thrill to recall something from the darkest parts of our memory.

Football fans will probably agree with Auburn University coach when he said Auburn didn't deserve to be ranked #1 football team in the nation. Those of us who saw the Auburn-Tennessee game on the tube - or like me tuned in at the first of the game - know it was a misfire. The game ended at 14-0. Tennessee won on the ejection. However, this was just a sample of the game to come. We don't know just why it is that a seemingly good football team can sometimes look like they are playing sandlot ball - but it happens. That is why we wouldn't bet money that any big college team could beat the smallest high school in the South on any given Saturday. That doesn't mean we wouldn't buy you a soft drink if our favorite team would win . . . or lose. We would buy you the drink anyway, so it would just add a little sparkle to the day if one or the other HAD to play off.

The invasion of lovebugs that has hit south Georgia, Florida and the lower part of Alabama isn't as bad as it has been in years past. The worst infestation we have seen is in Florida, around the beach areas and northward. We can see a car covered with the bugs and predict it probably is coming from several miles south. The brightest side of this matter is that the cooler weather will cause them to vanish almost as quickly as they appeared.

National Shrimp Festival Scheduled

At Gulf Shores

The 14th Annual National Shrimp Festival, October 11-13 in Gulf Shores, will put its emphasis on good food from the sea.

A seafood cooking contest is set for 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. October 13 at Gulf State Park Resort. A seafood boardwalk will be available each day on the public beach area.

Activities will include musical performances by Danny and the Primes, the U.S. Air Force Reserve Band, gospel music groups, a Dixieland band and the Queen City Cloggers. Most events are scheduled for the public beach area, but some will take place in the city.

The National Shrimp Festival Parade is set for Oct. 12 at 10 a.m. on Hwy 59 South. Many festival activities are planned for children. For more information, contact Joe

Bob Inman Publishes Book

Elba native Bob Inman has released a book recently entitled "A Note in Closing". The book is a collection of the commentaries he delivers on his nightly newscast on television station WBTW in Charlotte, North Carolina, and many of them are now showing up in Elba. Copies are available at Whitman Drugs in Elba.

"I've been doing these short essays at the end of our newscast for about four years now," Bob says. "One night I'll talk about weings we can't afford to buy, the next night I'll do a piece on the trials and tribulations of people who teach Vacation Bible School. A lot of it is drawn from my youth. I guess I've made Elba a little famous here in North Carolina because I talk about it all the time."

Bob is a 1961 graduate of Elba High School and worked at the Elba Clipper and WELB Radio during his high school years. He received a degree in radio and television from the University of Alabama in 1965 and began his television career at WSFA-TV in Montgomery. He went to Charlotte in 1970, and there except for a four-year period in 1975-79 when he was director of University Relations at the University of Alabama and then at Whitman Drugs in Elba.

Bob is also the author of a novel, "The Cocktail," to be published in September, 1986. He says it is the story of a small town "Southern newspaper editor, set the end of World War II."

Pass The Salt And Pass The Pepper

BY: FAYE HOLLIDAY

It all started simply enough in 1978 when Mrs. Oron (Eva Mae) Matthews asked her husband to build a small shelf to display her dozen or so pairs of salt-pepper shakers. But somewhere during the ensuing years, Mrs. Matthews and herself in the middle of a well-known hobby, decided to add shelves building another shelf - and another - and another - until the present time, there are 560 sets of all kinds, sizes and shapes of salt and pepper shakers displayed in the Matthews home.

Her husband offered to construct a special little building just to house her hobby, then, she said, "No, I want to keep them in the house where I can look at them when I want to." So he affixed the narrow, scalloped shelves around the walls in the breakfast nook of their kitchen, sort of framing the table there.

So knowledgeable is Mrs. Matthews of her hobby that she can, with a little thought, go right to the ones she wants. "Now, these came from Hawaii, these from the Philippines, these from . . .

Her very first ones were little round red pots; she has since moved on to more unusual ones, including cats, mushrooms, skunks, pineapples, cacti, street lights, fish, jars, pipes, Sears-Roebuck catalog pages, a miniature toaster which dispenses when pressed, pieces in boxes, sets of bread and salt in a white Indians, chickens, spoons, alligators, door knobs, a Boot Hill pair, pigs, small dogs, etc., etc.

When pressed for a favorite, Mrs. Matthews said she liked what would be the pair depicting the Capitol and Washington monument. But these did not come from D.C.; they were purchased in Ozark by her daughter, Jenell Thomas.

Jenell has brought many of the objects down here, as has another daughter, Evelyn Kelley (one pair she brought was crawfish from Panama City), and son Joel and his wife Doris. They found a very old set (the cats) one day in New Brockton and brought them in their home. Mrs. Matthews has several more very old and unusual pairs given her by a friend in Ozark.

An unusual note about Mrs. Matthews collection is that although she has a few from far-away places, she has not traveled "far and wide"; she just likes her little items, and herself to add to it. The curios have come to her, pair-by-pair, via her children, friends and neighbors, and from what she has purchased herself right in the Elba area.

Mrs. Matthews and part of her collection

And, she shows her appreciation and fondness for them by cleaning them from time to time - one by one.

Mr. Matthews, retired from Dorsey's in 1979, and his talent finds outlet in the Matthews' neat, well-kept yard and surroundings on the outskirts of town near Elba, and in building objects for friends.

If there are very many more shakers brought into the Matthews household . . . Mrs. Matthews MAY just have to take her husband up on his offer of a little house for that is, when she runs out of walls to put shelves on.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to thank each and everyone for the visits, the food, flowers and loving care during our recent bereavement.

May God bless each of you our prayer.

Although Mrs. Matthews remembers paying a dime for her first purchase, she says that now it is as much as $6 or $7 for a set, she figures they average $2 per pair, making their monetary value quite impressive. But, money value has not been a factor in her hobby; she just likes her little items, and

Jesse Reeves To Celebrate
Fourth Birthday

Jesse Reeves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Foy Reeves Jr., will be four years old tomorrow (Friday, October 4.)

Jesse's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reeves, Elba, and Mr. and Mrs. Foy Cobb of Houma, La.

Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Corbett Cobb of Clayhatchee, and Mrs. Lera Avant, Daleville.

Miss Tammie Ann Duncan, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Deidre Dolores Johnson and Stephen Todd Westbrook took place at the First Baptist Church Chapel in Elba, on Saturday, Oct. 6. The wedding officiating. Music was provided by Mike Dell, organist, and Molly Bennett, soloist, of Arab.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee Johnson of Huntsville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Westbrook of Elba.

Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James Hovater of Russellville, and the late Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Johnson of West Point, Tennessee.

The groom is the grandson of Mrs. Willie Westbrook and the late Mr. Westbrook, of Elba, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lambert of Enterprise.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents and officiating by her father, wore a gown of white tissue taffeta. Scallops of re-embroidered alencon lace studded with pearls created the Queen Anne neckline. The Juliet sleeves were embellished in alencon lace and pearls.

More of the alencon lace, encrusted with pearls and touched with spangles, extended over the sculptured bodice and circled the dropped waist.

Her circular skirt was decorated in lace and crystal pleating with scallops of lace edging the hem and flounce. The waistband of the skirt was a wide band of silk illusion attached to a Juliet headpiece of alencon lace and pearls.

The bride wore grandmother's pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids interspersed with pink roses, baby's breath and ivy.

For her daughter's wedding,

Mrs. Johnson chose a floor-length gown of fuchsia georgette with double pleated puffed sleeves and lace waistband.

Mrs. Westbrook wore a floor-length gown of rose knit and chiffon with full sheer sleeves and an overlay of chiffon dropping over the bodice. Silver threads accented the fabric on the collar, bodice and sleeves.

Maxine Tate of Birmingham

was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Lisa Westbrook, Clare of Marietta, Georgia, sister of the groom; LuJean Veal Johnson of Augusta, Ga., sister-in-law of the bride; Edna Hester Jones, Atlanta,

Ga., cousin of the bride; Suzanne

Hardy, Selma; Lou Thompson

of Alvin, Texas; and Candy

Jones, Huntsville.

The bridesmaids were Trey Lawler and Jason Lawler of Huntsville.

Pageant girls were the pointed waistlines. They wore dyed-to-match shoes and carried long-stemmed assorted summer flowers in yellow, pink and white, with white hydrangea and baby's breath and ivy.

The reception was held in the church fellowship hall with music by Dan Payne at the piano.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda,

the couple resides in Huntsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Westbrook were the parents of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark, all of Elba, were the parents of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bozeman and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Albritton, at

The cool weather that blew in last week was really enjoyable and Friday night's "football weather" across the state. It's already warmed back up, but I'll keep the blankets out just in case we get lucky again and the cool weather comes back.

Tigers Suffer First Loss Of Season

The Elba Tigers played hard and gave their fans plenty to cheer about last Friday night, but it just wasn't to be as the Tigers lost to Pike County 28-13 and saw their record slip to 4-1. Elba showed early it could move the ball and scored on its first possession of the game; however, the defense just couldn't seem to stop Pike County in the first half, and when it did stop 'em, the offense came out and made mistakes on the board. All the Elba players gave good effort - it just wasn't enough.

The offense looked good at times both running and passing, and although it bogged down in the second half, showed it could move the ball against a good defense.

The defense had to scratch and claw all night and gave up some big plays, but had a few good stops. Pike County has two long scoring drives and played tough when it had to.

It always hurts to lose, especially to a rival, but I think Elba's players and coaches both learned a lot in the game and will be a better team because of it.

It Was Standing Room Only

It was really great to look around Friday night and see the stands filled and people standing all along the fence. Elba has always supported its team well and voices its support loudly and often, an I'll guarantee you it helps keep the team fired up!

I've got to commend all the Pike County fans who made the trip down to support their team. The Brundidge was full both times Elba played last year and Friday night they had an overflow crowd that made a lot of noise and really showed their support!

It may not be true everywhere, but down in south Alabama you know how the people feel about their young men and I think it's great!

Another Good Week For County Schools

The county football teams continued to pile up the wins last week as only Zion Chapel failed to win. The three teams own a combined record of 12-3, which ain't too bad.

New Brockton continued its climb up the 2A ranks with a 4-0 win over Coffee Springs. The Gamecocks have outscored their opponents a total of 161-13 in five games and obviously are gaining confidence for their run at the playoffs.

Kinston upset its record to 4-1 with an impressive 26-7 win over G.W. Long and has got Bulldog fans believing it can beat anybody! The Dogs have got some tough games left, but success breeds success, and who knows?

Zion Chapel stubbed its toe in Dothan as it lost to Houston Academy 21-13. The Rebels have shown the ability to get fired up and beat anybody, so they'd better throw some gas on the fire because the Rebels' biggest games are yet to come.

A Good Weekend To Watch TV

With Alabama and Auburn both on TV last Saturday, I made plans to relax on the sofa and watch both teams post big wins. Well, I did curl up on the sofa and watch the Tide roll, but I fell asleep at halftime of the Auburn game, and I'm kind of glad I did. Don't fret Tiger fans - it takes more than one lost battle to lose the war.

Still Plugging Along . . .

Ye ole Polish Prognosticator hit on 18 of 26 picks last week, but missed on three of four county predictions and is still waiting for his new crystal ball to arrive. Oh well, I'll just keep plugging along . . .

ZION CHAPEL VS. FLORALA

The Rebels can wrap up a playoff berth with a win, while Florala must win to keep even slim hopes alive. Zion Chapel is a hard team to figure out, but I've got to believe they'll be ready for this one.

ZION CHAPEL 26 - Florala 13

The Bulldogs have surprised a lot of folks this season, but to win this week would be a shock! Dozier is big, quick and talented, and I think that's too much for the Dogs to overcome.

Dozier 20 - Kinston 0

Coach Wood Reports Elba Will Put Open Week To Good Use

The Elba Tigers will have a week off prior to their Oct. 13 encounter with AA Ozark, and Coach Mack Wood reports the week off will give the team a chance to recover from bumps and bruises suffered during the opening five games of the season.

"We definitely need a week off to allow our walking wounded a chance to recuperate," said Wood. "We've got a lot of bumps and bruises - a lot of players have been playing hurt - and we can use a couple of days off to let them get a chance to change anything during the break we just hope to go back to where we started and try to improve on the basics."

Coach Woods' practice schedule for the week included two days of conditioning (running and weightlifting), two days work on fundamentals and then start preparing for Ozark.

When asked about last week's 28-13 loss to Pike County, Coach Woods stated, "I think we had real good effort from our players and for the most part our kids played hard and did as well as they could. I don't think we had a good offensive plan, but that wasn't the players' fault. I was pleased with our passing game, especially early, and our blocking was fair. The running game wasn't good at all, due in part to the things we asked the players to do; however, the entire offense can do a better job than it did Friday night."

Punt Returns Spark Kinston To 26-7 Win Over G.W. Long

STORY & PICTURES BY

Kinston assistant coach Terry Weeks talks with the Bulldog players during a break in the action against G.W. Long.

The Kinston Bulldogs claimed their fourth win of the season against the lossless Rebels Friday night in Kinston. The win came at the expense of the G.W. Long Rebels by the score of 26-7. The Bulldogs combined a defense that would really get tough when their goal line was threatened with a number of big plays from their special teams to claim the win.

Neither team was able to move the ball on their first possession. Paul Folmar took in a punt on his own 30-yard line and raced 47 yards for a touch down. He off armed a would-be tackler at the 20 and broke free, making a beautiful 33-yard return for the touchdown. Toby Reeves kicked the extra point giving Kinston a 7-0 lead with 2:51 remaining in the first quarter.

The Rebels took the kickoff and put together a 15-play drive from their own 30-yard line. On second and eight from the 11, Paul Payne threw the first pass of the drive and Hugh Helms intercepted it in the endzone to stop this drive.

The Bulldogs couldn't take advantage of this turnover as they gave the ball right back on a fumble at the 20. On the third play of this possession by the Rebels, Hugh Helms intercepted another pass from Payne, this time at the five-yard line.

It only took the Bulldogs one play to give the ball back to Long. Paul Payne recovered the Kinston fumble at the 18, nine-yard line, and cracked in from one yard out in turnovers. Todd Hawthorne recovered another fumble and Paul Folmar intercepted a pass, returning it 59 yards to the 16-yard line.

The Rebels' first two possessions of the second half ended with being for a touchdown. A try for 20 failed, leaving the score 26-7 with 5:46 left in the game.

The Rebels took the kick and put together an 11-play drive deep into Kinston territory only to have this drive halted by a Glen Barnes interception.

Paul Folmar returned the ball to the Bulldogs' 30-yard line. Long took the ball and ran it 19 yards for a touchdown. Paul Payne threw the ball to the 10, and again Folmar took the kick in and raced 58 yards for another Bulldog touchdown. The extra point failed, leaving the score Kinston 20-Long 7, with 1:49 to go in the third quarter.

The next time the Bulldogs got the ball, they started at their own 35-yard line. It took only eight plays for Kinston to cover the 65 yards and put the game into Hugh Helms' hands. Todd Hawthorne recovered a fumble on the next snap, but the Bulldogs were unable to take advantage of this turnover and the half ended with Kinston leading 14-7.

Brantley Bulldogs Drop 7-2 Decision To Arch-Rival Luverne

STORY & PICTURES BY BILLY WAYNE WILLIAMSON

The Brantley Bulldogs saw their hopes of a perfect season vanish last Friday night when they tumbled their way to a 7-2 loss to the Luverne Tigers.

The loss dropped Brantley's record to 4-1, while Luverne improved to 3-2 with the win.

Luverne started with an opening kick and drove to a first down at the Brantley 21-yard line, only to see the Bulldog defense tighten and stop the threat.

Brantley's Kyle Flowers recovered a Luverne fumble late in the quarter at the Bulldog 33, and the Brantley offense came to life as it began a march toward the Tiger goal. Three runs by Keith Dorsey moved the ball to the Luverne 20, and moved out of a deep hole at the one-yard line to the 32, only to be stopped.

ball one play later and Luverne recovered at the 12-yard line to kill the threat.

The Tiger offense didn't waste any time in the break, as Luverne scored in four plays, with Joe Parham getting the touchdown on a three-yard run. Marvin Smith added the extra point, giving Luverne a 7-2 lead with 9:50 left in the second quarter.

Luverne couldn't move the ball after making the defensive stand and had to punt, only to see a bad snap result in a fumble as Brantley got a safety to pull within 7-2 with 2:11 left in the third quarter.

Brantley got the ball to the Tiger 20 on its ensuing possession, only to be stopped again, and then got the ball right back on a fumble, only to stop this time at the 15!

Brantley recovered the second half kick and wasted no time showing it was ready to play as the Dogs drove 63 yards in nine running plays to reach a first down at the Luverne 18. The Bulldogs got as close as the 12, but the ball was taken away and the ball over on downs.
